++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Becoming dry and bright for most, feeling cold.

Today:
A cloudy and damp start, but skies quickly brightening, leaving many with a dry and sunny day with a few showers in the west. Feeling much colder than of late. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Mostly dry overnight with some long clear spells developing, low risk of an isolated shower over parts of Devon and Cornwall. Feeling rather chilly. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Friday:
A bright day on Friday with an odd, isolated shower, particularly in the far west. Feeling cold with a northwesterly wind. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
It will turn milder as we head throughout the weekend, with rain spreading in by Sunday accompanied by stronger winds. Temperatures near normal on Monday with sunshine and scattered showers.
